SUMMARY

"I am a passionate junior web developer with solid knowledge in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, looking for an opportunity to learn and develop new technical skills in the field of website development.

EXPERIENCE

AJUTOR PROGRAMATOR, 01/2021 - 07/2021

ITSchool, Timisoara, Romania

Working closely with other team members to identify and eliminate software errors in Python programming language.

- Discovering what it means to be a programmer and how IT specialists think.
- Learning the basic elements of programming and solving the first code problems.
- Object-oriented programming, a code writing model in which program design is organized around objects and data.
- Coding skills and basic code knowledge continuously developed through regular courses, professional supervision, and regular practice..

Web Developer Course, 11/2021 - 03/2023

Zero to Mastery, Udemy

After completing the HTML, CSS, and JavaScript course, I gained solid knowledge about building and styling web pages, as well as developing their interactivity through JavaScript. I learned to build responsive layouts and implement interesting visual animations and effects. I developed skills in using popular front-end frameworks such as Bootstrap and became familiar with the basic principles of web development. I also learned to use useful tools and resources such as code inspector or various JavaScript libraries to improve website performance and user experience.
